

PFI Marketing Bulletin 2010-1

March 24, 2010

Effective Date: Immediately

Subject: New MPF Education Link and Updated Navigation on the Public MPF[®] Website

The MPF Program is pleased to announce changes to its website at www.fhlbmpf.com, with updates to the navigation bar and the addition of a new MPF Education section. The navigation bar along the left side of the site has been enhanced to include a new link, MPF Education, and provide for ease of finding information about the Program. The new navigation bar looks like this:

The newest and most exciting feature of the website is the MPF Education link where you'll be able to find on-demand presentations, which can teach you about using the MPF Program at your convenience from anywhere you have a computer. The first on-demand webinar available is "The 4-C's of Underwriting". Be sure to check back often as we will be adding more webinars in the future and will continue building this portion of our website with key information that you can use. We've also added the webinar training calendar here, as we'll continue to provide live webinars to meet your needs.

In addition, we have updated the link previously listed as eMPF[®] Information and renamed it MPF Information. This is where you can find information about the MPF Guides, PFI Notices, Bulletins and Advisories. Under the link to the eMPF Website you'll find a direct connection to eMPF, our transactional site, and useful information about the eMPF website, including the User's Manual.

For More Information:

For general questions about the MPF Program, please call the MPF Customer Support Desk at 877-INFO-MPF (877-463-6673).

For more information on the MPF Program: <http://www.fhlbmpf.com>