To: All Fannie Mae Single-Family Servicers

Updates to the Foreclosure Time Frames and Compensatory Fee Allowable Delays Exhibit

In accordance with, E-3.2-15, Allowable Time Frames for Completing Foreclosure, Fannie Mae has established time frames within which it expects routine foreclosure proceedings to be completed and provides examples of reasonable explanations for allowable delays.

At the direction of the Federal Housing Finance Agency (FHFA) and in alignment with Freddie Mac we are updating the time frames within which routine foreclosure proceedings must be completed in twenty-two jurisdictions.

- The maximum number of allowable days will be increased for the following jurisdictions: California, Colorado, Connecticut, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, Mississippi, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Texas and West Virginia.
- The maximum number of allowable days will be decreased for the following jurisdictions: Florida, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Nevada and Oregon.

In addition, we are adding COVID-19 Foreclosure Moratorium and Forbearance as allowable delays, while removing Unemployment Forbearance.

Effective: The policy changes apply to all mortgage loans with a foreclosure sale date on or after July 1, 2025. Servicers must continue to use the current Foreclosure Time Frames and Compensatory Fee Allowable Delays Exhibit for all loans with a foreclosure sale date prior to July 1, 2025.

The changes within this Lender Letter will be incorporated into the Exhibit after the effective date.

*This methodology is the preferred method of foreclosure for each jurisdiction. Fannie Mae's Regional Counsel must approve the use of a different methodology prior to foreclosure initiation. Fannie Mae will provide procedural instructions and allowable fees if approval is granted.

Due to certain judicial decisions in Oregon, the servicer and mortgage default counsel in Oregon may, depending on the facts and circumstances of a particular case, decide to proceed with a judicial foreclosure without further approval from Fannie Mae.
